

Gordon -

Team «team_name» is resisting our mind control serum too well. Despite all of our precautions, most of them are still awake – and they’re getting very close to our headquarters. If they get much nearer, we should terminate them, as well as that worthless Agent Nyman. I’ve programmed the controller in Cranea HQ to liquidate their cerebral cortexes (or is that cortices?), and I will activate the transmitter if they get two steps closer to us.

Gordon, I’ve given you (and you alone) rights to deactivate this transmitter. Just log in to the Cranea servers and type deactivate cidy-oo. Otherwise, I’ll assume it’s okay to go ahead with my plan.

Thanks for all your help tonight,
Dr. Dement
